

Ecuador - Dr. Michael Mayfield / GHY/ 262-7058/ mayfldmw@appstate.edu and Leigh Ann Henion /ENG / 262-3098

This program combines classroom activities on the ASU campus with an intensive 12 day field course in Ecuador. The geography course focuses on mountain geography (weather and climate, water resources, and natural hazards) while the English course focuses on the craft of travel writing. Both courses are available for undergraduate or graduate credit. Classes will meet on campus throughout the month of May 2008, while the field portion of the classes will take place from:

May 12 - 28, 2008. $1,850
