

AS•U•GO

Presentation Checklist

- Introduction (name, culture & how you have experienced it, relationship to ASU (ex: what you study, teach, or do)).

- Introduce the culture: where is it experienced? Include a map of where it is in the world. How long does it take to travel there?

---
- Pick the Universal(s) of Culture you want to discuss. Consider the What, So What, Now What approach to learning: What do you want them to know? Why (So What) do you think they should know it? And what (Now What) can they do with this knowledge? How can you relate it to what they know as U.S. students?

- At least one media file on each slide. Reduce the amount of text to a minimum and use photos, music, internet resources, & film clips to discuss your culture. Personal pictures are the best! Make it appealing: Fonts, Color, Background, Animation!

---
- Include at least one activity per 15 minutes. Remember that is the maximum of a kid's attention span: get them moving, talking, singing, or making something. Or have your whole presentation based around an activity!

---
- In relation to specific requests, consider the following: is it age appropriate, can you incorporate what the teacher is teaching or what the Standard Course of Study requires.

---
- Think about timing, is your presentation long enough? Short enough? It is always better to have some material leftover at the end than standing up there with nothing left to say!

---
- Let program coordinator know what kind of materials you may need: technology equipment, art/craft supplies, etc. For special cultural items give at least 2 weeks notice as many times these need to be ordered - and we would love to order them for you!

- Information to be left (a copy of your presentation, additional resources, & a way for students and the teacher to continue correspondence with you).
